Acheson Says U. S. Needs More Capital

To Use Money To Carry Out Truman Plan

Washington, Jan. 26.—(AP)—Secretary of State Dean Acheson declared today the United States must marshal new reserves of military and economic might in the world struggle for freedom against what he called "reactionary" Communism.

Acheson, in his first news conference as chief of U. S. foreign policy under President Truman, discussed two main lines of action:

1. He said that a "very great" reservoir of private capital is available to finance President Truman's new program to raise the standard of living in backward areas of the world. But he served notice that countries desiring such help must create conditions "attractive" to private investment.

2. On the military front of the cold war, Acheson endorsed the plans worked out by former Secretary of State Marshall and retiring Undersecretary Lovett for a military alliance with western Europe.

Virtually quoting from President Truman's inauguration speech, Acheson declared that "we are convinced that we can best contribute to the maintenance of peace by joining with other nations in making it absolutely clear in advance that any armed attack affecting our national security would be met with overwhelming force."

He further indicated for the first time officially that the north Atlantic defense agreement, in negotiation for many months among the United States, Canada, Britain, France, Belgium, the Netherlands and Luxembourg, is about completed. He said that he hoped "to be able very soon" to talk about it in specific terms.

Follows Predecessors
In the main, Acheson, who took office only last Friday, went down the line with the policies already well laid out by his predecessors in office and by his chief, President Truman. Most of what he said, which was new was concerned with his heavy stress on private capital rather than any great new outpouring of public funds to carry through Mr. Truman's program for raising standards in backward areas.

And it was important that Acheson was the one to say this, because he announced that President Truman had called on the state department to blueprint the program—or as he put it, to compile suggestions in cooperation with other government departments and submit them to the president. He said there is no blueprint yet.

On established foreign policy principles, Acheson spoke out briefly for cooperation with Republican leaders in congress and out, such as Senator Vandenberg (R-Mich.) and John Foster Dulles; he promised to carry out the "good neighbor policy toward Latin America," he maintained the hands off policy toward China by declining to go beyond statements already made by the President, General Marshall and Undersecretary Lovett; and in general he indicated his intention of going forward with Marshall's plans on controlled revival of the German economy.

Price Index Shows Wholesale Costs Down 15 Per Cent

New York, Jan. 26.—(AP)—Much of the inflation in living costs during the past year is being wiped out, various sign posts showed today.

The Associated Press wholesale commodity price index declined to 172.54 per cent of 1926 average prices today, the lowest figure in 19 months. This is a drop of 15 per cent from a year ago.

The wholesale food index compiled by the search agency Dun and Bradstreet declined to $5.81. This means the total wholesale cost of a pound of each of 31 foods in general use is at the lowest point since the end of OPA price control in October of 1946.

And an Associated Press survey showed the retail price of seven staple food items in 13 cities across the nation has dropped 9.7 per cent from the level of a year ago.

It all adds up to a decline in the cost of living. It is not a decline of all items that go into living costs, and there is no common pattern.

Grand Jury Indicts 11 CIO Men In Plant Raid

Kalamazoo, Mich., Jan. 26.—(AP)—A one-man grand jury today indicted 11 CIO United Steel Workers as the aftermath of a commando-type dawn raid on the Shaker-Shakespeare Co. plants here.

The defendants were slated for arraignment Thursday on indictments returned by Circuit Judge John Simpson, one-man state grand juror. Conviction carries maximum penalties up to five years in prison.

Bricks were hurled, autos overturned, windows smashed, a truck burned, equipment damaged and seven workmen injured during the 300-man invasion last Dec. 1.

At the time, police chief Howard Boyd labelled the raiders "Union Goons."

Republicans Delay Showdown Debate Over Leadership

Omaha, Neb., Jan. 26.—(AP)—The Republican national committee delayed tonight a showdown in its party-splitting fight over the national chairmanship.

Both sides were claiming victory in the struggle of critics of Gov. Thomas E. Dewey to depose Rep. Hugh D. Scott, Jr., chairman who was hand-picked by the New York governor when the latter won the GOP presidential nomination last June.

Indications were that sentiment for and against Scott was about evenly divided among committee members who have a total of 105 votes including proxies.

In an effort to prevent a wide-open split, the committee agreed at a brief meeting today to appointment of a group of seven, headed by Werner Schroeder of Illinois, to seek a compromise.

But as soon as the Schroeder committee was appointed, there was disagreement over its functions.

Scott told reporters he had agreed to this procedure only with the understanding that he was to keep the chairmanship.

He said his opponents had been able to muster only 51 out of the 105 votes against him. This, he said, was not enough to oust him "but enough to be embarrassing."

House Of Commons Gives Ernest Bevin A Confidence Vote

London, Jan. 26.—(AP)—The House of Commons tonight voted confidence in foreign secretary Ernest Bevin's policy toward Israel.

With 50 labor members abstaining, the House of Commons voted 283 to 193 for adjustment of full dress debate on Palestine.

Said Prime Minister Attlee just before the ballot:

"A vote of adjournment in these circumstances is a vote of confidence in the government."

Before the vote was taken, Attlee also said that Britain had "accepted in principle" the recognition of Israel. He added:

"The question of the time of doing it is now a matter of consultation."

It has the first major test the labor government had faced on foreign policy.

It was a victory for Bevin, who had said that recognition of Israel may contribute to a peace settlement, but that he had withheld that recognition for further international consultation.

The Red Cross reported it had given assistance to about 450 persons evacuated from homes in the area.

Several streams were spilling over their banks, and even higher stages were forecast. Six highways were closed because of the high water. Some rural schools were closed.

Many of the persons evacuated from their homes were living with relatives and others made makeshift arrangements.

Army engineers forecast another 12-inch rise for the Little Wabash river at Carmi, where the Red Cross reported 350 persons already were homeless. Housewives moved food supplies by boat after about 22 homes in a suburban area there were cut off by the rising water.

More riverfront homes were in-

Truman Anti-Inflation Drive Gains Momentum

Washington, Jan. 26.—(AP)—The administration's anti-inflation drive gained momentum today as the Senate banking committee voted to extend industry's self-rationing system seven months.

This action paved the way for early congressional consideration of President Truman's general economic program which he says must be backed by stand-by compulsory control powers.

The Democrats demonstrated their strength in turning back a Republican effort to continue the voluntary agreements plan for 13 months past the February 28 expiration date.

The GOP contended that the voluntary method was working well and therefore should be given a longer trial. Evidently this was designed to forestall administration requests for mandatory controls.

This motion by Senator Bricker (R-Ohio) was defeated 8 to 2. Following that the seven-month extension requested by the administration was approved unanimously.

Chairman Maybank (D-S.C.) said the final committee action "left the door wide open for any administration anti-inflation proposals."

But he promptly added that the vote "does not commit anybody to mandatory controls."

The Senate-House economic committee meanwhile prepared to open a full scale study of Mr. Truman's general anti-inflation program which he outlined in broad detail in his state of the union message and his annual economic report.

Senator O'Mahoney (D-Wyo.), chairman of the joint committee, told reporters the hearings probably will start Feb. 8.

Vitus far steel has been the major industry to set up a self-rationing program to channel part of its supplies to essential users. About one-tenth of the nation's output is covered by these voluntary agreements.

Sleet In North, Floods In South Harass Illinoisans
(By The Associated Press)

Freezing rain or sleet made highways hazardous and closed many rural schools in the northern two-thirds of the state Wednesday. Rain also continued in southern Illinois, where swollen rivers have forced hundreds to evacuate their homes in two areas.

Freezing rain or sleet was predicted to continue Wednesday night and Thursday in southern Illinois. For most other parts of the state, the forecast was for cloudy weather Wednesday night and snow or rain again Thursday.

Rural schools in several central Illinois counties were closed because buses and other conveyances couldn't travel on icy highways. The Springfield bus depot cancelled all runs from there. Ice coated streets of many cities, including Chicago.

The state highway division said parts of at least six southern Illinois highways were closed to traffic because of high water. Persons in the Carmi area were menaced by the Wabash and Little Wabash rivers. The Big Muddy river forced many to evacuate in the Murphysboro region.

Witness Says U. S. Soldiers Hostile To 'Axis Sally'

Washington, Jan. 26.—(AP)—A witness at the "Axis Sally" treason trial testified today that American prisoners of war were hostile toward the woman who allegedly betrayed the U. S. for Nazi gold.

"They didn't like to have her there," said the witness, Inge Sylvia Doman, 32, former announcer for the German radio.

Miss Doman also testified that the defendant, Mildred E. Giliers, 48, related that on one occasion American soldiers who had been captured by the Germans "threatened" her when she attempted to interview them.

The Maine-born defendant is on trial in federal court, facing a possible maximum penalty of death in the electric chair if convicted.

Earlier, a stiff-backed former Nazi radio hostess, Hans Von Richter, 38, definitely identified the voice of Miss Giliers as the voice in the "Axis Sally" broadcasts. Another witness has testified that the aim of such broadcasts was to convince U. S. soldiers they were "fighting on the wrong side."

Legislature Agrees On State Division Of Gasoline Taxes

Springfield, Ill., Jan. 26.—(AP)—An Illinois Legislature commission agreed today on a recommended division of state gas tax revenues to help finance the long range road program it is formulating for presentation to the 1949 general assembly.

By a 13 to 2 vote, the state highway and traffic problems commission decided to ask allocation of three-eighths of motor fuel receipts for the backbone of the state's road net—the primary system. It now gets slightly less—one third—the same as counties and municipalities.

The group yesterday suggested that the gasoline levy be increased from the present three cents to five cents a gallon.

On this basis, the primary system would receive an estimated $32,000,000 annually compared with the $17,000,000 a year now allotted.

The commission recommended that one fourth of motor fuel receipts go for country road construction and maintenance, one fourth to cities and one eighth for local roads.

Both Sides In China Say Other Is Stalling

Say New Miracle Drug Medical Find Of 1948

Chicago, Jan. 26.—(AP)—The new miracle drug, aureomycin, was hailed today as one of 1948's greatest medical discoveries.

Aureomycin is a golden-colored well-tolerated drug that takes up where some other antibiotics leave off. Many doctors view it as a clue to the possible solution to such virus diseases as the common cold, mumps, infantile paralysis, measles and influenza.

The selection of last year's outstanding medical advances was made by the heads of the nation's medical colleges and medical institutions. They were polled by the National Society for Medical Research which announced the findings.

The doctors predicted the discovery of aureomycin "will shape up as one of the most significant medical advances of 1948 when the year is surveyed by researchers in future years."

Aureomycin has proven effective against all three of the major enemies of public health—bacteria, viruses and rickettsia.

It has cured virus pneumonia, spotted fever, typhus fever, parrot fever and various infections.

Aureomycin, either powdered or liquid in form, is derived from a thread-shaped mold of the family that produces the previously discovered antibiotic streptomycin.

Other medical developments ranking high included:

A new operation for heart disease which creates a new artery leading off the aorta (the large heart vessel that supplies blood to the lower parts of the body); cutting off the top of the heart to prevent clots from plugging blood vessels elsewhere in the body; and wrapping the aorta in plastic to prevent it from bursting.

Isolation of the common cold virus V14A and studies revealing that the pocket handkerchief is the most important germ-spreading agent.

Li Prepares To Make Last Ditch Stand

Nanking, Jan. 26.—(26)—China's crumbling government was trying frantically today to get together enough troops to establish a defense line somewhere in South China, and, at the same time, was accusing the onrushing Communists of "delaying peace talks."

(A Communist broadcast heard in Shanghai accused acting President Li Tsung-Jen of stalling. It called on him to show his sincerity by "determining" Chiang Kai-Shek and other "war criminals.")

It was reported on high authority that Chiang Kai-Shek would return to power should peace talks fail, and the civil war would rage on. These sources are so high they can be considered unimpeachable.

Will Fight On
They declared that if the "Red price for peace is too high," the government is ready to give up both Nanking and the great financial center of Shanghai, fighting on south of the Yangtze.

In any case, the new capital of government-held China will be the southern metropolis of Canton effective Feb. 5.

The foreign office announced that on Feb. 3 all government functions will cease in Nanking, now little more than a shell of Nationalist authority.

Two days later, it added, Canton will become the new capital. Some foreign embassies were preparing to go south. Others, including the U. S. embassy, awaited instructions from their capitals.

An unnamed government spokesman issued a statement saying the Communists were using "delaying tactics." He declared the Reds had not even troubled to name their peace delegates.

The spokesman called on the Reds to "suggest a place where the talks can proceed" instead of saving Peking would be the site when it is "completely liberated."

Defense Line Prepared
A strong defense line south of the Yangtze already has been prepared just in case the peace talks blow up.

For several days large numbers of troops still remaining to the government have been moving south. The flow of materials and supplies to the new defense area has been unceasing.

The defense ministry itself is moving south by Friday, leaving only garrison headquarters in Nanking.

Confidential Chinese sources say the new line will be anchored on the east coast at Hangchow, which is 100 miles southwest of Shanghai and about 150 miles southeast of Nanking.

From there the line will extend nearly 300 miles southwestward across mountainous terrain to Nanchang, capital of Kiangsi province.

From Nanchang it would stretch 155 miles northward to Wu-chang, on the south bank of the Yangtze opposite the central Chinese fortress city of Hankow.

Backed By Formosa
In the rear of this line is the island province of Formosa, openly styled "Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek's private fortress" in Nanking.

Military observers believe the Nationalists cannot hold this line for more than a few months with the forces now available.

(It is a naturally strong position, however. The Japanese had little luck penetrating this mountainous region and was content for the most part with garrisoning the more important cities.)

(From Canton, Correspondent F. K. W. reported that military and political leaders were united in a determination to defend that area should the Reds reject peace talks and invade south China.)

(Among supporters of the defense plan he listed Gen. Hsueh Yuen, governor-designate of Kwangtung province.)

The Yangtze remained quiet. Nanking was tense but orderly. Ferries still ran between Nanking and Pukow the rail head on the north bank.

UN-AMERICAN ACTIVITIES GROUP
CAN STILL DO PLENTY OF GOOD

The House Un-American Activities Committee, which recently seemed doomed to extinction, will continue on its way with nothing more drastic than a face-lifting. Its Democratic membership will now be made up entirely of lawyers. And it will get along without the services of Reps. Rankin of Mississippi and Hebert of Louisiana, who bolted to the States' Rights last fall.

This should satisfy a good many of the group's numerous critics. Some with leftist axes to grind will still insist that the committee should be abolished. But if a new approach goes with the new faces, it may be able to convince the public that it has a useful purpose in spite of some reprehensible practices in the past.

Perhaps the committee's investigation of the Whitaker Chambers case, under Republican leadership, helped to gain it this new lease on life. If the investigation has been nothing more than a red herring and a witch hunt, it could have served as the crowning excuse for doing away with the committee. Instead, it apparently inspired a move to correct some weaknesses in our present laws and, by inference in their enforcement.

The Hiss-Chambers case seems to have suggested to the attorney general a need for tighter laws to protect the country's security. Some of the requested legislation clearly stems from the State Department spy inquiry.

In asking for these laws, Attorney General Clark may be implying that his department should do the job of investigating as well as prosecution, and could do it with stronger authority. Yet, in the Hiss-Chambers case, the Justice Department passed over evidence that should not have been ignored. It took the House committee to goad the department into action.

In the last analysis the committee's record in the Chambers case looks good. There is hope now that its general record may look better in the future. There have been plenty of things wrong with its setup and procedure in the past. One of them, perhaps, is its name.

"Un-American activities" is a general term capable of loose and biased definition. Under it, many persons have been attacked for actions or beliefs which some committee member considered un-American, but which were not unlawful. But if the committee can now be composed of men who abide by the spirit and letter of legal procedure, this need not be repeated.

Theoretically, both congressional committees and cabinet departments operate above the level of politics. But the committees have closer bipartisan representation, and their operation is more public. Such a committee, investigating suspected sedition with justice and reason, and working with and not against the Justice Department, can perform a genuine public service.

900 Women Brave
Weather To Attend
Interesting Session

By MARI KALER

Icy pavements and slippery sidewalks had only a slightly diminishing effect on the size of the crowd which attended the second session of the Journal Courier Food Festival School of Cookery, held Wednesday morning at the Fox Illinois theatre.

In spite of the unfavorable weather conditions which prevailed Wednesday, more than 900 women attended the school, which was nearly as many as had been present on the preceding day, when the attendance exceeded one thousand.

All of which reflects the drawing power of the school and the popularity of the two demonstrators, Miss Edaleen Stohr and her assistant, Miss Doris Keefe, both of the National Live Stock and Meat Board.

The school was opened promptly at nine o'clock by Robert A. Fay, master of ceremonies. Mr. Fay then presented Miss Stohr, who is in charge of the school.

Stresses Nutritive Values
In her opening remarks, Miss Stohr stressed the fact that in meal planning the homemaker must not only satisfy the appetites of her family, but must also strive to fill their nutritional needs.

She impressed upon her audience that in all of the recipes demonstrated at the school, nutritive values have not been overlooked. She also pointed out that all of the recipes are formulated after much research and study in the experimental laboratories of the National Live Stock and Meat Board, and that each is designed to bring out the utmost in flavor and nutrition.

Her first demonstration was a cushion pork shoulder roast, in which the bone had been removed, leaving a deep pocket in the cut which she filled with an apple-raisin stuffing. For sewing the pocket she used an upholstery needle, which she said is most satisfactory for this purpose.

Eliminates Basting
It is best, she said, when roasting, always to place the meat with the fat side up. This will allow the juices to seep through the meat, thus eliminating the need for basting.

A temperature of 350 degrees is used for roasting all meats except pork, which roasts best at a temperature of 300 degrees. Other meats suitable for roasting are leg of lamb, rib roast, pork loin and ham. In roasting, no water or cover should be used.

Pot roast with catsup was the next dish prepared. A shoulder cut was used for this, first covered with flour and then dipped in hot fat. The roast was covered with catsup and allowed to brown slowly. In the last 45 minutes of cooking, potatoes, also covered with catsup for color and flavor, are added.

Combines Veal, Pork
Veal and pork were combined in the next recipe, veal loaf. Miss Stohr urged that the loaf be packed tightly so that it will slice well. She also suggested pressing the loaf slightly in the center, so that the top will be level.

A luscious-looking cranberry ring cake was prepared next. Cranberries mixed with nuts and orange rinds were placed in a circular mold, after which the cake batter was added. This produced an up-side-down cake.

A little variation was introduced in making the lemon meringue pie in that the filling was made with flour rather than corn starch. The pastry mix, prepared beforehand, was used for the pie shell. Here Miss Stohr emphasized the importance of pricking the crusts on the bottom sides and edges.

Barbecued Heart
Next in order was the preparation of barbecued heart. This being a less-tender cut of meat, the cooking process is longer and moisture is required. The hearts were dredged in flour, dipped in hot fat and then put on the stove to simmer until tender.

A shoulder cut was used for the lamb stew. For this stew, the meat was cut in large chunks, and large vegetables, whole sweet potatoes and whole onions, were used. Frozen green beans were prepared separately to go with the stew.

A shoulder cut was used for the

Seed Committee
Allocates New
Oats For 1949

An adequate supply of Clinton 11 seed oats for the 1950 crop year was promoted Monday afternoon when the Morgan County Farm Bureau seed committee allocated parent seed to 13 farmers. The seed was obtained from last year's harvest of a planting made by C. Otto Nickel of Concord.

A large group of progressive farmers of this county asked for a portion of the 463 bushels available. The committee chose those who had handled certified seed plots in the past.

At the same time the committee agreed to maintain the $6 per bushel price on Hawkeye soybeans raised in this county last year. Other counties are quoting the new soybean seed at $5 and less. The local group said they felt that the $6 retail quotation was fair like to the grower who certified his 1947 crop and the farmers of this area.

Allocations of the new oats were made to Howard Hess, route 4; James W. Robins, Franklin; Otis L. Kellner, Alexander; James B. Anderson, Chapin; John McFadden, route 4; J. A. Long, Jacksonville; H. Yates Potter, route 1; Howard Stevenson, route 1; Irl R. Henderson, Murrayville; John J. Clegg, route 8; Lawrence W. Fisher, Woodson; Harold E. Swain, route 3 and Wallace T. Hembrough, route 8.

MacLeish Will Lecture In City
Friday Evening

Archibald MacLeish, distinguished statesman and poet, will present the next lecturer of the MacMurray Concert and Lecture Series on Friday, Jan. 28, at 8:15 p.m. in Music Hall of MacMurray College. His topic will be "The Nature of the World Crisis."

ARCHIBALD MACLEISH

Archibald MacLeish attended the public schools in Glenview, Ill., was prepared for college at Hotchkiss School in Connecticut. At Yale, where he graduated in 1915, he distinguished himself both for his scholarship and his extra-curricular activities, and achieved his Phi Beta Kappa Key. His class book reported that "MacLeish expects to take up the study of literature."

Instead he took up the study of law at Harvard, which was interrupted by two years' service with the field artillery in World War I. In 1919, after his return to Harvard, MacLeish received his law degree with honors and was awarded the Fay Diploma. For the next two years he served as instructor in government at Harvard. In 1920 he began the practice of law in Boston, at the same time teaching in night schools and writing the educational section of Times, which was then starting publication.

In the winter of 1923, MacLeish went to Paris to live, read the French poets, made a pilgrimage to Persia, wrote "The Human Comedy," and after five years, returned to the U. S. He then concentrated on writing to the exclusion of all else.

It was in 1938 with his appointment as Librarian of Congress that MacLeish started his career in government service. He held this post until 1944 when he was appointed Assistant Secretary of State. In the summer of 1945 he resigned from this post to enter the field of international relations. He went to London as the Chairman of the United States delegation to the United Nations conference which set up UNESCO. In Paris during 1946 he served as vice-chairman of the U. S. delegation to the first general conference of UNESCO and subsequently became the U. S. representative on its executive board, a post he resigned in May, 1947.

Gives Address On
Placing Children
In Foster Homes

Winchester—The regular meeting of the Child Study group of the Winchester Woman's club was held Monday, Jan. 24, at 8 p.m. The meeting was brought to order by Mrs. Regina Cowhick, president of the club, who conducted the regular business and then turned the meeting over to Mrs. Richard Coultas, hostess, who in turn called on Mrs. Helen Leib. Mrs. Leib introduced Mrs. Temple I. Grout who gave an interesting review of the organization of the original purpose of the child study group, then introduced Mrs. Dorothy Yeck of the regional offices of Child Welfare in Springfield.

Mrs. Yeck gave a very informative talk regarding the functioning of her offices and dwelt especially on the problems of placing children in foster homes.

The by-laws of the club were read by Mrs. Oren Robertson, president of the Woman's club, and the meeting was adjourned. Refreshments were served by the committee and a social hour followed.

Miss Lillian Tendick
Weds Kenneth Stoen
Bride Is Former Resident Of Murrayville

In a pretty candlelight ceremony which took place Saturday evening, January 15, at 6 o'clock at Bethel Lutheran church in Evergreen Park, Ill., Miss Lillian Tendick, formerly of Murrayville, was united in marriage with Kenneth G. Stoen of Balm Lake, Wis.

The couple pledged their vows before an altar of ferns and flowers. The Rev. Melvin D. Blume, pastor, performed the double-ring ceremony. A program of organ music preceded the nuptial rites. Mrs. Melvin Blume sang "Because" and "The Lord's Prayer."

Attended By Sister
The bride was given in marriage by her brother-in-law, Comley Evans, of Springfield. She was attired in a gown of white slipper satin fashioned with a yoke of deep shoulder flounce, tight fitting bodice with long sleeves ending in points at the wrist and a full gathered skirt made en train.

Her finger tip veil was of fine illusion, lace-edged, and fashioned over a crown of beaded satin. She wore a single strand of pearls and carried a bouquet of calla lilies.

Mrs. Barbara Spencer of Murrayville, sister of the bride, was matron of honor. She wore a floor length dress of orchid taffeta. Miss Maxine O'Neill and Miss Esther Boyle of Chicago were bridesmaids.

Their gowns were of pale yellow and green, respectively, fashioned like the bride's, but with short puffed sleeves. Each carried a bouquet of pink carnations and wore a crown of pink carnations.

Bride's Niece Is Flower Girl
Miss Virginia Evans, niece of the bride, was flower girl. She wore a rose colored taffeta, ankle-length dress fashioned like the bride's. She wore pink carnations in her hair and carried a white basket filled with rose petals.

Richard Evans, nephew of the bride, was ring bearer. The groom was attended by his brother, Glen Stoen of Balm Lake, Wis., as best man. Alfred Borch and Patrick Houlihan of Chicago were the groomsmen.

The bride's mother was attired in a cadet-blue crepe dress with black accessories. The groom's mother chose a grey dress with brown accessories. Both wore an orchid corsage.

Reception Held For 75

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the bride's home in Chicago for seventy-five relatives and friends. A large wedding cake topped with a miniature bride and groom graced the dining table.

Mrs. Stoen is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Tendick of Murrayville. Before her marriage she was employed in Chicago as a stewardess with American Airlines. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. O. E. Stoen of Balm Lake, Wis. He is employed as manager of Boyd's hardware store in Chicago. Following a brief wedding trip the couple will reside in Chicago.

Carrollton—Mrs. J. C. Atwood of this city was called to St. Louis Sunday by the death of her grandson, George Fiske, 18, a sophomore at Vanderbilt University, Nashville, Tenn. Fiske was killed in an automobile accident Saturday night when he and a group of other students were returning to Nashville after attending a masquerade party. Their car hit a truck which had stalled on the road.

The truck was on a curve and because of a fog the driver didn't see the truck in time to avoid a collision. The youth was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Clark Fiske of Kirkwood, Mrs. Fiske being the former Miss Catherine Atwood.

Silent Auction Held By Bluffs Junior Women

Bluffs—The Bluffs Junior Woman's club met Thursday evening in the American Legion Hall for its January session. A "silent auction" was the feature of the evening, the funds going for the club project.

Mrs. William Bon presented a talk on "Chinaware" in which she told of the origin of the various kinds and how to distinguish each one.

During the business session with Mrs. Norman Engelbrecht presiding, contributions were made to Occupational Therapy, Trail Rangers, Park Ridge School for Girls, Cancer Research fund, Penny-Art, and Veterans project, making the club a 100% club. Plans were discussed and will be announced later pertaining to the youth center project for the local club.

At the close of the meeting refreshments were served by the hostesses, Mesdames Harold Kilver, LeRoy Pond, Robert Lovekamp, William Freeman and Everett Neese.

Season veal cutlets with a little powdered rosemary, saute in a little fat, and then simmer until tender in sour cream.

XXXV

IT was late in April when Merry came home from the movies and a soda at the Sweet Shoppe with some of her chosen friends to find a long, low, expensive convertible with a New York license tag on it parked in the drive.

For a long moment she sat perfectly still, staring at it, and even before she went into the house and the visitor stood up from the deep chair in which he had been facing Aunt Jane, she knew who it would be. It was Mike, of course.

"Well, stranger," he greeted her casually, though the leaping delight in his eyes, the warmth of his tone, the way his hand closed tightly over hers, was anything but casual. "It's been a long time. But you're more beautiful than ever."

By now she had her breath back and could stammer, "But, for goodness sake, what are you doing here? And why didn't you let us know you were coming?"

"Oh, I was driving up from Florida, and I was studying the road map for a route that would avoid some of the larger cities, and I happened to see 'Marshallville,' and I thought to myself, 'Why, that's where Merry lives. Why don't I drive by and say hello to her?' And the next thing I knew, here I was."

"And very welcome, too," Merry assured him eagerly, and turned to Aunt Jane. "This is Mike Channing, Aunt Jane."

Aunt Jane grinned.

"We've met," she said dryly. "He came a little after 3, and since he wouldn't let me have you 'paged' at the movie, he and I have been entertaining each other."

"I found it most entertaining," said Mike happily.

Aunt Jane twinkled at him pleasantly.

"You two sit down and have a chat, while I see to dinner," she urged hospitably. "Lizzie will be all of a twitter at the idea of cooking for a young man from New York."

"If you're sure it isn't too much trouble—" Mike protested politely.

"It's a pleasure," said Aunt Jane. "I've tried to tell him, Merry, that we have all sorts of spare rooms and we'd be delighted to have him as our house guest."

"But of course."

"Thanks, but I really couldn't impose."

Merry laughed. "You have absolutely nothing to say about it. Haven't you heard about Southern hospitality? If we can't get our guests any other way, we kidnap them."

"I couldn't think of a grander way to be kidnapped," Mike gave in willingly.

"Good," said Aunt Jane, and bustled off.

Merry curled up in a deep chair and demanded eagerly, "And now, tell me all about everything. When did you last see Dad and Lissa?"

"They were in Palm Beach for a couple of weeks, looking wonderful and having such a good time they are a walking advertisement for the joys of matrimony," said Mike. Then he added quietly, "I've missed you, Merry."

"I've missed you, too, Mike."

"Enough?"

"Enough for what?"

"Enough to be glad I'm back and to want me to sort of hang around a spell? I'd be glad, Merry, if it would help you make up your mind. I've no place I particularly want to go; nothing I especially want to do. Acquiring you as my wife strikes me as one of the most exciting and stimulating projects any man could take up."

Merry said shakily, "Please, Mike, I'm sort of all mixed up. Could we just not talk about it for a little while?"

MIKE'S handsome face stiffened just a little and some of the light went out of his eyes, but he answered quietly, "Of course, child. I don't think I ever quite realized just how young you really are. In New York, there was a shimmer of sophistication over the engaging and charming young-

Merry said huskily, "That was Lissa. She has such superb taste and she was so generous in out-fitting me."

Mike nodded as though it weren't very important. "Could be, I suppose. I think, too, it's a part of New York itself. People just seem to sort of grow up faster there. But here in your own home—and by the way, what a perfectly swell place to grow up in. It's got an atmosphere—I can't quite explain it—but just coming into it, you feel it."

"A place where two or three generations have lived and loved and grown old and finally passed on," said Merry.

Mike looked at her sharply.

"Yes, I suppose that could be it," he admitted slowly, as though he found the idea strange and a little alarming.

He looked about the big room with its old rubbed furniture; its chintz draperies that had faded a little so that the clusters of roses and cornflowers and tulips had melted into pastel shades. At the deep-piled dark green rug, and the two or three well-chosen pictures on the wall.

"Yes, I can begin to understand you better, Merry," he said after a moment, and there was a look in his eyes that somehow, crazily disturbed her.

"I've just remembered something," she said hurriedly, scrambling to her feet and avoiding his eyes, all of which was perfectly silly, as she knew to her own secret rage. "I have to telephone. Will you let me show you to your room? Dinner will be in about an hour."

"Thanks," said Mike, and there was a tiny gleam in his eyes that was not quite a twinkle but that told her he was a little amused because he had read that sudden, crazy uneasiness in her mind.

ROCK ISLAND LADY LOSES 25 LBS. WITH RENNEL

Rennel is the original grape fruit juice recipe for taking off ugly fat. It's simple. It's inexpensive. Just go to your druggist and ask for 4 ounces of liquid Rennel. Pour the contents into a pint bottle—add enough grapefruit juice to fill the bottle, then take two tablespoons a day. That's all there is to it. If the very first bottle doesn't show you the simple, easy way to lose bulky fat and help to regain a more slender graceful appearance—if reducible pounds and inches don't just seem to disappear almost like magic from neck, chin, arms, bust, abdomen, hips, calves and ankles; just my clothes fit nicer and I have more return the empty bottle for your money back. You need never know a hungry moment while taking Rennel—no starvation diet—no printed diet list to buy—no vitamins to fortify you against weakness while going hungry for you WON'T be hungry.

Here is what Lois Huston, 300½ 20th St., Rock Island, says about Rennel: "When Rennel was first mentioned to me I was so sluggish and tired out as the result of being over weight that I decided to try it. When I started taking it I weighed 185 and I now weigh 160. The weight I have lost has made me feel like a different person. I no longer have that stuffed feeling and can now eat a meal without feeling all bloated afterwards. My clothes fit nicer and I have more ambition." You can get Rennel from any druggist. Don't be "switched" to another product, insist upon genuine Rennel.

While I'm waiting for a haircut the other day, Slim Hartman lets slip with a crack about those "foreigners" who live by the depot.

They'll Do It Every Time

By Jimmy Hatlo

Cooking School Morsels

The popularity of the cooking school is evidenced by the fact that so many of the women attending are those who have been regular in their attendance for the past several years.

Many new faces are seen at this year's school, however, including several recent brides. Mrs. Floyd Beadles, 734 North Main street, a bride of two weeks, is one of the newcomers. Although she knows how to cook, Mrs. Beadles says she is getting tips on making meals more varied and eye appealing.

Speaking of eye appeal, an abundance of it flourishes during the Parade of Foods, when the dishes prepared at each day's session are displayed by the use of a large mirror. The foods are attractively garnished and are shown to good advantage with varied colored platters and luncheon cloths.

Eye appeal is also attributed to the demonstrators themselves, for both Miss Edalene Stohr and her assistant, Miss Doris Keefe, are very good looking.

Both are quite charming and possess pleasing personalities, which make them very popular with the audience. Pictures of efficiency in their crisp, white uniforms, they make the art of cooking appear quite simple. The ease and know-how with which they handle their lectures and demonstrations are proof of their unlimited abilities.

The experts are generous with their tips and points, designed to make cooking a pleasure, rather than an ordeal. Any "student" who takes to heart the many suggestions offered is bound to develop into a more nutrition wise and penny-wise homemaker.

Like Miss Bines, who conducted the school last year, Miss Stohr advocates the use of a rubber spatula, as well as the pastry cloth. A trick for folding the cloth, which according to Miss Stohr does away with a lot of messiness, is to fold it in half, with the rolling pin near the fold, by rolling the pin in the cloth, it is ready to be put away in a drawer until again needed.

Another tip given by Miss Stohr is one which eliminates pie dough sliding when it is being rolled. The solution to this problem is to place a piece of moistened oil cloth underneath the pastry cloth. The oil cloth side is wet and placed downward on the table, thus preventing any sliding.

Miss Stohr also thoroughly debunked the old legend that walking across the room while a cake is baking will cause the cake to fall. "If the recipe is good," says Miss Stohr, "and the ingredients properly blended, it will take much more than just walking across a room to make a cake fall." Hum...

From Miss Keefe, who is an expert at garnishing, that art which if properly executed will add to the tempting qualities of any dish comes the following tip: "The secret of garnishing," says Miss Keefe, "is color." For this reason, she particularly recommends endives, which are curlier and greener than lettuce, and which serve as an excellent garnish, as well as being a boost to almost any salad. She also suggests carrot tops as a garnish. (Economy note).

Miss Keefe is a veteran, and that doesn't necessarily mean of the battle of the kitchen. She served overseas in the European theatre during World War II, as a dietitian with the Army Medical Corps.

Film On Cancer Control Shown To Local Home Bureau

A film on cancer control from the American Cancer society was shown Thursday evening at a meeting of the evening unit of the Jacksonville Home Bureau at the home of Miss Rose Ranson. The movie, shown on the county health projector, was arranged by Mrs. Lillian Bunch and Mrs. Edith Leeper.

The major lesson was given by Mrs. E. H. Garlich. Mrs. G. C. Richardson, who presided, and Miss Rosetta Magner, served as co-hostesses. Miss Rose Ranson, librarian, organized the reading course committee for the year.

Modern gadgets such as the blind hammer and plastic bobbin cases were exhibited and hints for the modern household were collected for the hint scrapbook. Dessert was served and both the dessert and appointments were judged.

The next meeting will be conducted at the home of Mrs. French Flynn, 149 Caldwell street.

H. M. Andre, Retired Merchant, Dies; To Hold Funeral Friday

Harry M. Andre, 81 years old, who for many years was one of the city's most prominent business men and civic leaders, died Wednesday morning at 12:35 o'clock at Our Saviour's hospital after a week's illness.

As senior member of the firm of Andre & Andre, dealing in home furnishings, Mr. Andre saw Jacksonville expand from the horse-and-buggy era into a modern merchandising center. He was a progressive citizen who contributed much to the community's civic development.

His home is at 928 West State street, where he lived in retirement since the firm of Andre & Andre retired from business, leasing its three-story building on the north side of the square to Sears, Roebuck & Co.

The remains of Mr. Andre were prepared for burial at the Gillham Funeral Home.

Body Will Lie in State

They will be taken at 4 p. m. Wednesday to Trinity Episcopal church to lie in state until the funeral services which will be held Friday morning at 9 o'clock in the church, with Rev. Reginald M. Harris officiating. Friends are asked to kindly omit flowers.

The remains will be taken to the Valhalla crematory at St. Louis and the ashes later will be interred in Diamond Grove cemetery.

Mr. Andre was born June 20, 1867, in the northwest section of Morgan county, son of M. F. and Elizabeth A. Graham. He attended the Mercedosa High school, assisting in the farm work, teaching in the vicinity, and later graduating from the Gem City Business college at Quincy, Mo. His first business venture was in connection with his uncle, George W. Graham and H. S. Hysinger.

Illini vs. Gophers Holds Midwest's Eye Saturday

Chicago, Jan. 26.—(P)—Midwest baseball fans are worked up to a fever pitch for Saturday's Minnesota-Illinois game, pivotal point in the rugged Big Nine title scramble.

Both teams are unbeaten in conference action. Minnesota is ranked fifth nationally in the Associated Press poll and Illinois is sixth.

The Illini, with a 21-1 record which includes three consecutive league wins, has the advantage of playing on its home court in Champaign—an edge which usually is worth six or seven points in the score.

The Gophers have an excellent record of 13 victories and no defeats, five victories in Big Nine action.

Illini Hold 43-25 Edge

The outstanding records of both teams make the game one of those "Natural." But there is more to it than that. It pits two different brands of basketball rivalry in one of the hottest game rivalries in the conference. The contest will be the 69th in a series which began in 1906. The Illini hold a 43-25 victory margin but haven't beaten Minnesota since 1945.

The Gophers this season have capitalized on ball-handling, control and a tightly-knit defense. Hubert around 6 foot 10 inch Jim McIntyre, leftmost cager in the school's history. At the same time, however, Minnesota has a hefty scoring punch. Sophomore Whitey Skoog, tabbed the best service player in Florida when he was in Naval training, has popped in 205 points in 13 games and has a 17 point game average in conference firing. McIntyre has contributed a total of 227 points but has been held to a 14.2 Big Nine standard. Durable Bud Grant has bagged 98 points for the season. The team scoring average is 56.4 while the opposition is 41.9.

Illinois Favors Fast Break

Illinois is an exponent of the fast-break and a well balanced attack headed by Bill Erickson, Mike Edleman and Wally Osterkorn. Erickson, a junior, has a 15.3 average in three conference dates.

Center Osterkorn, 6 feet 4 inches, and Fred Green, 6-7, help make up the tallest and best sharpshooting squad the Gophers have faced thus far. Most observers believe rebound work will be the deciding issue.

Northwestern Will Play Pittsburgh Eleven In 1950

Evanston, Ill., Jan. 26.—(P)—Northwestern University today announced a 1950 game with Pittsburgh and a 1951 meeting with Colorado, both at Evanston, rounding out the "Midcat" football schedules for those two seasons.

The Oct. 21 date in 1930 with Pittsburgh and the 1931 opener with Colorado on Sept. 20, provided Northwestern's Rose Bowl championships with eight intersectional games during the next three seasons. The 1949 card already has been announced, it includes games with Pitt and Colgate at Evanston.

Athletic Director Ted Payeur said Northwestern, which dropped Notre Dame this year after a long rivalry, was following a policy of having the team appear in the East and West on alternate years.

The Wildcats invade the East for a first time in 10 years in 1950, meeting Navy at Baltimore Oct. 7, in the first of a home-and-home series.

In 1951, Northwestern's centennial year, the Wildcats will entertain both Army and Navy at Evanston. A return game with the Army is scheduled for 1953 in New York.

Payeur also announced that Northwestern will face Southern California in a home-and-home series starting in 1952. The first game will be played in Los Angeles and the return tilt here either in 1953 or 1954.

Detroit Lions Lost $93,798 Last Season

Detroit, Jan. 26.—(P)—Stockholders of the Detroit Lions took it matter-of-factly last night when they heard the club went $93,798 in the red during 1948.

They went right ahead and re-elected their entire nine-man board of directors. And, judging from the lack of criticism, there seemed little reason to doubt that all officers would be re-elected when the directors meet next Monday.

The Lions finished in the National Football League's last place last season, winning only from Green Bay and Pittsburgh in 12 starts.

One of the big reasons for the operating deficit, said President D. Lyle Fife, was $35,000 in injured players expenses.

He also pointed out that the new management, which took over from Fred Mandel, Jr., after the 1947 season, had to buy off the contracts of two former assistant coaches.

The owners were told by general manager and head coach Bob McMillin that about 20 new players have been lined up for next fall. These include John (Pep) Panelli of Notre Dame, who is due in Detroit next week.

Sid Luckman Will Coach Boston Grid Team Next Year

New York, Jan. 26.—(P)—Sid Luckman, quarterback of the Chicago Bears, will be the new coach of the Boston Yanks in the National football league next fall, the New York Star reported tonight.

The Star, in a copyright story by Clay Felker, said the former Columbia University star would sign for the post within the next two weeks.

He has been in conference with Ted Collins, owner of the Boston team which recently transferred its base of operations to New York, the paper added.

The move would be made with the approval of George Halas, owner of the Bears, the Star said.

The Boston coaching post was left vacant by the resignation of Coach Maurice J. (Clipper) Smith.

Luckman is 34 year old and his retirement from active play has been expected for the last several years.

CHICAGO LIVESTOCK MARKET REPORT

Chicago, Jan. 26.—(P)—Although hogs and lambs eased somewhat today, cattle strengthened. Hog prices were steady to 50 cents lower, cattle steady to 25 cents higher, and sheep varying from strong on ewes to mostly 25 cents lower on lambs.

Barrows and gilts sold from $17.50 to $21.25 for good and choice grades, the longer decline going to the heavier weights. The day's top price was $21.50. Sows made $15.50 to $17.75. Clearance was called good.

Choice to prime long yearlings topped cattle at $32.25 and two loads of choice steer yearlings brought $20.00. Medium to low-choice kinds took $20.75 to $25.50 and medium to good heifers merited $25.00. Beef cows topped at $18.00, sausage bulls at $33.00, beef bulls at $20.00, and vealers at $34.00.

Most good and choice lambs were worth $24.50 to $25.25, with an extreme top established at $25.40. Choice fall-shorn types ranged from $24.00 to $25.00 while fed yearling wethers took $22.75. Ewes topped at $11.50.

New York Stock Market

New York, Jan. 26.—(P)—U. S. Steel Corp. common stock surged ahead in today's market on news of a special dividend, a proposed stock split-up, and the highest earnings since 1939.

Steel opened at 76 1/4 for a gain of 3 1/2 points, after a 35-minute delay while buyers and sellers tried to get together, slipped back a little for a while, and then in late trading responded to new demand with an advance of more than 4 points. The initial sale involved 15,600 shares.

To the balance of the market tilted there was a little pick-up in buying power in late business. The steel group stayed ahead most of the day. Volume expanded to more than 1,000,000 shares, tops since early January.

Among steels in demand were Bethlehem, Republic, National, Wheeling, Jones & Laughlin, and Youngstown Sheet.

Losers a good part of the day included Chrysler, Montgomery Ward, International Harvester, Schenley, Consolidated Natural Gas, Phelps Dodge, International Paper, Northern Pacific and Standard Oil (N.J.).

Corporate bonds were selectively higher. U. S. governments continued to display firmness in over-the-counter dealings.

GRAIN MART OPENS LOWER, ADVANCES, THEN DECLINES

Chicago, Jan. 26.—(P)—Grains made an attempt at a rally today and then gave up as too big a job. The market opened lower, advanced above the previous close around noon, and then sold off again in the last hour of trading.

Selling was most pronounced in the near-by deliveries and one result was that July corn went to a premium over May. All oats contracts, as well as December wheat, sank to new lows since trading in these contracts started.

The mid-day rally largely was based on short-covering and some mill buying in wheat. It failed to develop strength in view of an overnight agriculture department report of very large grain stocks in all positions on Jan. 1.

Receipts were: wheat 14 cars, corn 197, oats 14 and soybeans 4.

Wheat closed 1 1/2 lower, May $2.13 1/2; corn was 1 1/2 lower to 1 1/2 higher, May $1.41 1/2-1.42; oats were 1 1/2 to 1 1/2 lower, May 70 1/4-1. Rye was 2 1/2 to 3 lower, May $1.61; soybeans were 1-1 1/2 lower, March $2.41 1/2-1.42 and was 12 to 18 cents a hundred pounds lower, March $14.57-14.55.

Cincinnati Cagers Lead College Fives In Scoring Honors

New York, Jan. 26.—(P)—Cincinnati's point-making Bearcats still lead the nation's major college basketball teams in scoring, out the gap between them and the runners-up is narrowing.

The Bearcats, according to national collegiate athletic bureau statistics of games through Jan. 22, had scored an average of 72.7 points in 12 games. This is 1.7 points below their top figure of a week ago.

Closing in on Cincinnati are Rhode Island State, 72.4, Illinois, 70.5, Yale, 70.3, and unbeaten western Kentucky, 70.1. Thus only 2.6 points separate the pace-setter from the fifth place team.

Oklahoma A. & M. is far 'n front in team defense. The possession-minded cowpokes have surrendered an average of only 34.3 points per contest. Stars of upstate New York is the far-trailing runner-up with an average of 40.6, followed by Michigan, 41.5 and Minnesota, 41.6.

Western Michigan's collection of hot-shots has earned 317 of 814 throws to move into first place in field goal percentage with a mark of 38.9. Seton Hall is second with .383 and Wyoming, last week's pace-setter, is third with .381.

Joe Fuks Has His Eye On Mikan's Scoring Record

Philadelphia, Jan. 26.—(P)—Look out Mr. Mikan. Joe Fuks is shooting your way and he has a "record" look in his eye.

"Tell George Mikan he isn't the scoring champion of the basketball association of America yet," Fuks said today. Mikan, of Minneapolis, is the current BAA scoring leader with 876 points.

And Joe means what he says. The six foot, five inch native of Kuttawa, Ky., points to the records of recent weeks to prove that his warning to Mikan has plenty of foundation.

In six Philadelphia warriors games since January 14 Fuks, holder of all point records in the BAA, has poured 196 points through the hoops, an average of 32.3 per game. His backboard work and all-around play has been great against such rough and tumble aggregations as Chicago, Minneapolis and Baltimore.

Fuks appears to be duplicating his performance in the 1946-47 season when the Kuttawa Clipper set an all-time professional basketball scoring record of 1,611 points.

Farm Bureau Lines Up Behind Flexible Price Supports

Washington, Jan. 26.—(P)—The American Farm Bureau Federation lined up firmly today behind flexible farm price supports due to go into effect next year.

Its board of directors rejected a proposal that it urge congress to change the support system to require price floors of 90 per cent of parity on major crops when production and marketing controls are used.

(Parity is a legal standard for measuring market prices of farm products. It is designed to be fair equally to farmers and consumers.)

The 90 per cent floors proposal was advanced by a group of southern bureau members. But a combination of midwestern and northern members, led by President Allan B. Kline, voted it down at a closed board meeting.

Tyrone Power Will Marry Linda Today

Rome, Tuesday, Jan. 27.—(P)—Tyrone Power said he will marry Linda Christian at 10:30 a.m. today (3:30 a.m. central standard time) regardless of any last minute legal hitch in California.

"If this marriage is not recognized in California, when we return there we will get married all over again," he said.

The wedding of the Hollywood film stars will be held at the scheduled hour in Rome's Santa Francesco Roman Catholic church with high-placed Italian society and Hollywood notables in attendance.

The legal hitch developed in California when it developed that final divorce papers for Power had not yet been signed.

Until the papers are signed the ceremony is not legal as far as the state of California is concerned, a Hollywood dispatch said.

Sentence Former Judge To Prison For Embezzling

Newark, N.J., Jan. 26.—(P)—P. James Pellechia, Jr., 39-year-old former police judge, was sentenced today to a prison term of 10 to 15 years on charges of embezzling more than half a million dollars from his father's bank.

The stocky, smartly dressed ex-judge, jailed since last July 15 when he admitted embezzling $687,000 to cover his gambling losses, will start Friday on the journey to state prison.

Essex county Judge Joseph E. Conlon, denying the defense attorney's 35-minute plea for a light sentence, said he could see no basis which "would influence the court to extend leniency."

"Pellechia's action resulted in lasting damage to the prestige of our judicial system. For this I cannot show leniency. He must serve 10 to 15 years," Judge Conlon said.

YOUTHS ARRAIGNED FOR STEALING AUTO

Peoria, Ill., Jan. 26.—(P)—Four Wisconsin youths were arraigned today on federal charges of driving a stolen automobile from Milwaukee, Wis., to Lexington, Ill.

The youths were lodged in Peoria county jail after failing to post $2,000 bond each set by the U. S. commissioner here.

They are Edwin M. Domagalski, 20, of 827 Maple St., Milwaukee, Wis.; Vernon L. 17; Kenneth Link, 26, Randolph Hotel Milwaukee; and Werner C. A. Woydelko, 24, of 624 14th St., Kenosha.

From five to 23 jewels—it is always an odd number—are used as bearings in spring watches.

Tigers Meet Hornets; Routt, Chambersburg Tangle This Evening

Semi-Finals Tonight
I.S.D. vs. Mt. Sterling, 7:15 p.m.
Routt vs. Chambersburg, 8:45 p.m.

Routt and Chambersburg proved themselves to be two of the toughest five in the PMBC tournament by scoring impressive victories over Bluffs and Chapin quints in the final first-round contests on the I.S.D. boards last night.

The local Rocket five swamped an undermanned Bluffay quintet 63 to 34 in "The curtain-raiser." Paul Stroud, Routt mentor, started his second string after the intermission, and all ten of his lads broke into the scoring column in the process of downing the Bluffs boys.

Routt Wins Easily
Routt, rated second only to Mt. Sterling in pre-tournament selections, bounced into an early lead over Bluffs and were never worried from the time A. J. Spreen flipped in a free-throw to give them a 1 to 0 edge until Bill Kauffmann dropped in a fielder to give the Jacksonville five their 63rd tally.

Kenny Hutton, Bluffs guard, was the only player on the losing five not completely outclassed by the Rocket attack. The stocky cager staged a one-man exhibition of one-handed long shooting that drew applause from even the Rocket fans throughout the fray. However, his 19 point total was still not enough to keep the underdog quint in the contest. Tony Cobb, Rocket reserve, dumped in 9 free-tosses out of 12 attempts and added two buckets to accumulate a total of 13 points, which was tops for the 10 Routt scorers.

Chambersburg Routt Chapin
Eddy Jackson and the boys from Chambersburg lived up to advance notice that they're not going to be content with their fourth-seeded spot in the meet. They routed Paul Blakeman's Chapin aggregation 59 to 38 in the final first-round contest of the evening.

The game was very rough, and officials were forced to call a total of 64 personal fouls on the two quints. Chambersburg was charged with 34 fouls, while the Chapin quint broke the rules 30 times. Four members of the winning five left the contest with too many fouls, and Paul Blakeman lost the same number of players.

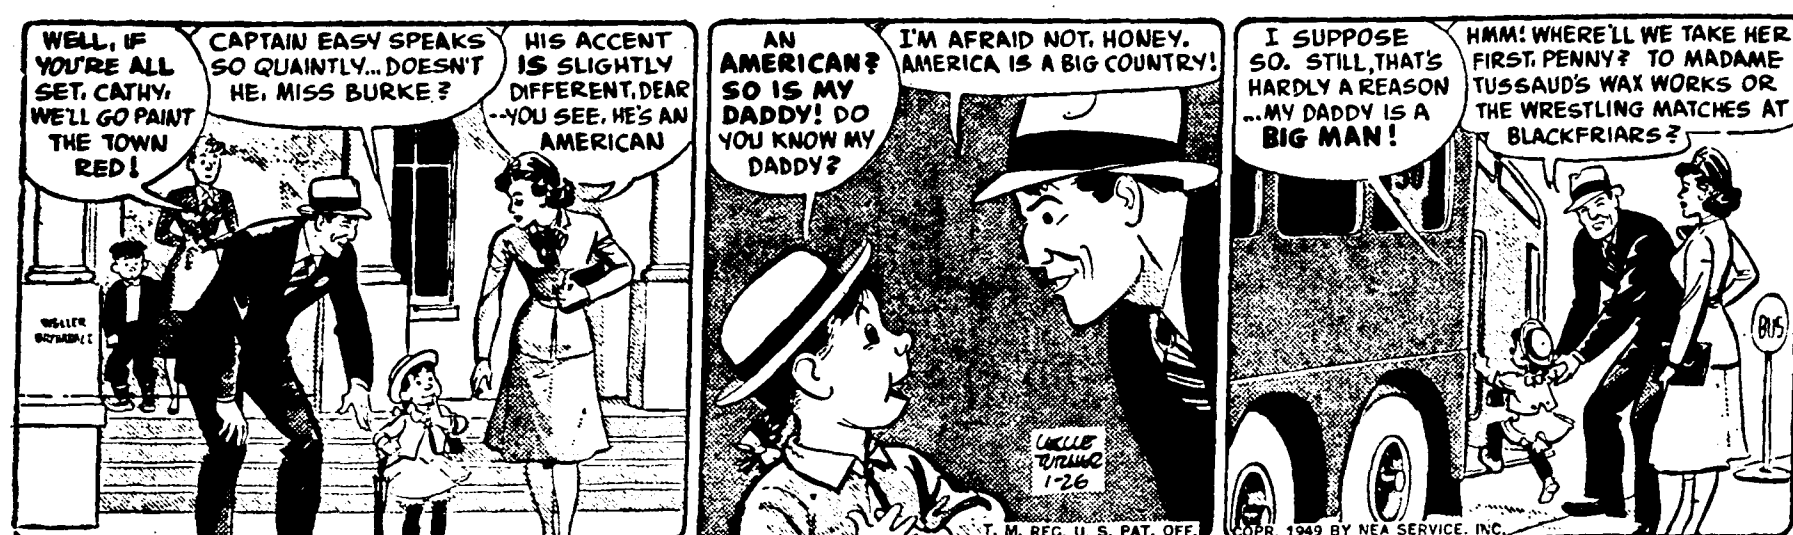

Chapin managed to stay in the tussle for the first eight minutes, and lagged by only 4 points at the end of the initial stanza. With Jackson fronting the attack, Chambersburg drove into a 28 to 17 lead at the intermission, and from then on controlled the contest with a minimum of effort.

Burg Uses Fast Break
The Burgers showed speed aplenty, and "coupled a flashy fast break, with some nice long shots or Jackson to put on a fine exhibition of the hardwood sport. Jackson was the leading scorer for the winners, and for the evening, with 25 counts.

SPREEN AND WIANT: TOP COPS IN '48

Two Jacksonville police sergeants, Albert Spreen and Lyle B. Wiant, were judged "the two Illinois policemen who most showed extraordinary valor and courage in police duty in 1948." They received the annual cash award sponsored by the Illinois Policeman and Police Journal, Chicago.

Each officer received half of the $100 cash award, along with the special Distinguished Service citation.

Shown in the photograph are Mayor Ernest L. Hoagland, Sgt. Spreen, Sgt. Wiant, Chief Harry Curtis of the Illinois State Police, who made the presentation, and Lt. John S. Stupper, commanding officer of district nine.

Earlier the two policemen had received the publication's monthly award for their interruption of an armed robbery of Steele's tavern on N. Sandy street on May 6, 1948. One of the gunman, Charles W. Coleman of Alton, was killed in the exchange of gunfire, and Lyndie Lair, also of Alton, was wounded. He was captured in Litchfield a few hours afterwards and is now in the penitentiary. Lair confessed that he and his partner had staged a number of stickups in Illinois and Missouri.

Thomas R. Gowenlock of Chicago was the chairman of the committee on awards. His message read in part "You have made a distinct contribution to the advancement of law enforcement in the state of Illinois."

The citation stipulated, "First Award for 1948 for exceptionally meritorious service in line of police duty within the state of Illinois, for the courageous and efficient breaking up of the gun robbery of a tavern and the slaying of one robber and the wounding and capture of the other in Jacksonville on May 6, 1948."

Scott Co. School Lunch Project Is Self Sustaining

Winchester—Mrs. Mazy C. Smith and Mr. and Mrs. M. F. Fuller entertained at a dinner party on Monday evening at the Smith home. Guests were members of the Board of Education and their wives, principals of the Scott county schools and their wives, the general office staff and other office heads of the Community Unit School District No. 1.

Following the dinner a short board meeting was held with Mrs. Smith, president presiding. During this meeting the board discussed the need for more attendance units.

Miss Maude Gillham, supervisor of the school lunch program, presented to the board the report of the progress made in the school lunch project. This showed that the school lunch has been an outstanding success. A total of 27,633 lunches have been served during the months of September, October, November and December. Total receipts have been $8,905.02, which means that the project has become self supporting. Any balance in the school lunch fund is used to buy needed equipment or to supplement or improve the quality of the meals.

The report showed that the district received 94¢ per pupil per meal in state and federal aid, 21¢ state reimbursement and 7¢ federal reimbursement.

The average number of pupils served daily during December were—Alley 60; Bluffs 163; Winchester 118; Winchester High School 109. After the adjournment of the board meeting Supt. Fuller showed colored pictures including some of the school buildings and grade rooms before and after they had been improved, old buildings which had been closed, various grades in action, the school lunch being served in the four schools, also slides of the board members, officers, etc.

The following guests attended the dinner, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence F. Wilson, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Oakes, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Leitz, Mr. and Mrs. Russell McCaughlin, Mr. and Mrs. Wes Andel, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Dean, Mr. and Mrs. Allen H. Ligon, Mr. and Mrs. L. H. DRIVER TRIES TO PARK ON ILLINOIS RIVER

Peoria, Ill., Jan. 26—(AP)—Truck driver Hiram De Bord picked a bad place to park his semi-trailer today—the Illinois river.

De Bord, from Sterling, was making his first trip on a run from Sterling to St. Louis and became lost in Peoria. He told police he mistook the lights of a docked tug boat for the city parking lot.

De Bord's truck, pulled a ten ton load, stopped after the front wheels cracked through the ice. It took two hours for two other trucks and a wrecker to pull the semi trailer free.

Retail Council Opposes Move To Raise Fines For Overtime Parking

The board of directors of the Retail Council of the Jacksonville Chamber of Commerce, in a meeting held Wednesday morning, agreed to go on record as being opposed to any increase in fines or penalties against the accidental or occasional violators of the present city ordinance regulating parking.

Local Boy's Club Topic Of Optimist Club Speakers

At the regular Wednesday meeting of the Optimist club, Ed Bargery, Jr., and Bob Bonds described the accomplishments of the East Side Boy's club of this city.

A letter addressed to the mayor and city council on the subject reads as follows:

"Through the means of this letter I will attempt to convey to you at least a portion of the ideas expressed by members of our Retail Council at a meeting held Wednesday morning, Jan. 26.

In summary, this Board is positively opposed to any move which would inflict heavier fines or any type of penalty on the occasional or accidental violator of our present parking ordinance.

We believe that the retailer who is in constant contact with the buying public every day is in a much better position than anyone else to judge the attitude of our public toward our parking program. We definitely believe that at least 95 per cent of the people who park in our downtown area are thoroughly conscientious in their efforts to obey the present ordinance. Every day there are many, many people who leave right in the middle of a conversation, a business transaction, or a meeting to run down and "feed the meter," so they will not be parking overtime. In spite of this diligent effort, however, there are times when it is humanly impossible for them to get back in time and, as a result, a ticket is issued.

We must also recognize that our meter is a mechanical device and, consequently, is subject to occasional failure. There have been numerous occasions where tickets were issued when the citizen was entirely blameless but rather the meter was at fault in not properly registering the parking fee.

Don't you agree that these cases should in no wise be penalized? It is a fact that the Retail Council and the Chamber of Commerce spend practically all of their time in attempting to build our city and to spread good will throughout our trade area. Excessive fines or penalties imposed upon our friends can in five minutes tear down all the good work that we have spent much money and time to develop. We don't think that you, as a city council, would favor a move of this sort.

Prepare To Sell Scott Co. Rural School Buildings

Winchester—At its meeting held Monday evening the Board of Education of Community School District No. 1 decided that several school buildings are no longer needed for educational purposes and are subject to petition for sale in the near future.

A much improved transportation system makes it possible to serve pupils in these areas, transporting them to larger attendance units where they may receive additional educational advantages. Because of small enrollment and the teacher shortage it is to the advantage of the school district to reduce the number of attendance units. The sale of these properties would also be a saving of over $3,000 per year in cost of general upkeep of unused buildings. Money spent on these buildings can be put to good use in improving other buildings.

Buildings which the Board of Education considers no longer needed are Akers, Bluff Dale, Burris, Claywell, Daniels, East Hickory, Eureka, Exeter, Fair View, Freeport, Independence, Kellar, McCracken, Maple Grove, North College, Oak Dale, Pin Oak, Pleasant Hill, Ridge, Victory, West Hickory, Williams and Willow Branch.

At the retail meeting Wednesday, a schedule of holiday closings was also tentatively adopted to be presented to the entire retail membership of the Chamber of Commerce at the annual meeting. Likewise, a program of retail promotions for the year was tentatively adopted.

Retailers were urged to fully support the "Democracy Works Here" campaign which is scheduled to open nationally on Feb. 16.

French Violinist Gives Civic Music Concert

By Joachim Stenzel
Devil Erlih, a gifted young violinist from France, was introduced to Jacksonville listeners in the second concert sponsored by the Civic Music Association and impressed us greatly with his astonishing technical ability and his earnest musicianship.

Mr. Erlih began with a group of classical violin works. The stately simplicity of Vivaldi's D-minor Concerto, reminiscent of a Romanesque cathedral, was followed by two movements from Bach's first partita for unaccompanied violin in the interpretation of which the artist showed a maturity of concept unusual for his years.

The audience was then treated to the fanciest violinistic fireworks that your reviewer has heard in recent years. Left-hand pizzicati, double-

DRIVER UNHURT WHEN CAR SKIDS ON ICE

John C. Steinmetz, 1603 Chilton avenue, narrowly escaped serious injury Wednesday morning when his 1941 Buick sedan overturned on route 67, south of Virginia.

Mr. Steinmetz was traveling along at a cautious 25 miles per hour when the car began to skid. The car went out of control, rolled over an embankment and ended up in a farmer's feed lot.

Extensive damage was done the car, which was towed to Brummitt's garage.

AT THE MARTIN HOG SALE

Rollin E. "Pepper" Martin, one of the outstanding Spotted Poland China swine breeders in America, is shown as he parades one of 50 excellent gilts and sows sold at auction in Alexander Tuesday.

Luke J. Gaule was the auctioneer. Thirty gilts of Grandview breeding averaged $299 a head.

Kay's Beauty, 70 per cent white brought the top price of the day, $525. She was purchased by Chalenger & Sons of Waterloo, Iowa. Few of the animals were sold to central Illinois purchasers. Breed association fieldmen vied throughout the afternoon to fill orders placed by breeders from all Cornbelt states, including North and South Dakota.

Weather Handicaps Polio Fund Campaign

Organization teams conducting the March of Dimes collection bootleg during the current campaign have made a good showing despite the most unfavorable weather, according to a partial report announced Wednesday.

Up to date the teams have collected nearly $689.19. This amount, however, represents less than half of the amount the local chapter spent in the last six months to aid the family financial distress caused by the three cases of polio which struck Morgan county residents during the last half of 1948.

"Polio is as apt to hit the poor and middle-classes as the rich," observers point out.

"It is a costly affliction, requiring much time and a heavy outlay of money. The finances of the average American family are totally inadequate. Everybody's help is needed."

Saturday's collections amounted to $339.77. The 40 and 8 raised $106.42 and the labor unions raised $339.77.

The American Legion team raised $130.29 Monday, including a direct donation of $50 from the post. The Rotarians raised $37.48.

Sizeable contributions to the 1949 campaign are expected to be brought in by the school children, everyone of them a possible victim before the year is over.

Students throughout the county, including the parochial schools, are bringing in their family's contribution for the fight against infantile paralysis. Only the students of the Jacksonville public schools have not been permitted to join the campaign.

The pupils of the Alexander-Franklin-Norton district are in the midst of a money-raising drive which includes maintenance of coin containers at business houses, a house to house canvass by high school students, collection cards to be distributed by all students and contributions to be taken up at all athletic events. Superintendent Harry Fitzhugh is in active charge of the campaign.
